Monthly Recap

May In Review

Last month we had quite a bit of rainfall that left the field flooded for a few days or about a week. In fact, I never realized this before, but the water in the SWARM area is over knee deep. Found out the hard way. But things are starting to normalize and the field is looking great. Bob Glowienka has been working really hard to get things ready for flying season. Thanks to everyone who has also been helping out around the field when you can.

► There's a fine line between having enough water for floats and too much water that closes Oakwood Road. This month we hit the sweet spot and I managed to get a proper float fly in.

◄ The dandelions sure are pretty - if only they didn't grow like weeds.

Monthly Recap

Show and Tell

◀ Joe Milanowski brought in all of his 1/5 scale Champ this time and showed us his progress on the build. The wings are done and fuselage is almost done. Joe made really cool and functional landing gear for the Champ that articulate. Awesome!

▼ Bob Heil has been a previous member of the club and just stopped by to check things out. He did bring in a Flite Test model and shared some stories about attending Flite Fest, which is on June 23 - June 26 this year in Malvern OH.
